

USE PISTOLS IN STRIKE RIOT.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 24.—Shots were fired, clubs and gas pipe wielded, two men were hurt and eleven men were arrested in rioting here early today between strikers and strike-breakers at the Theodor Kunda war order auto body plant. One hundred strikers tried to overturn a motor truck on which thirty strike-breakers were being hauled to the plant.

The attack on the truck precipitated a free for all fight and police reserves were called to quell the disturbance.

When the first tooth comes

The time to be particularly careful about the child's diet.

There comes a morning when you lift the little youngster from his crib and he smiles a great big smile and right there in the centre of that lower gum is something new—something white!—his first tooth!

Other teeth follow quickly. And now you must pay close attention to food. The child's appetite is not always normal. His weight while teething may remain stationary. Do not let it go backward.

It is time for H-O Oatmeal.

H-O Oatmeal has almost the same perfect balance as mother's milk and to that food it is the logical successor.

The standing H-O has won among hospitals and authorities on diet is due to the fact that it is the only oatmeal which can be thoroughly cooked in only 20 minutes.

For over 2 hours we cook in sealed cookers. That is why you can finish it cooking so quickly.

And—you don't know the delicious possibilities of oatmeal until you have tried H-O. Why not tomorrow?

CRUISER RUSHED TO AID AMERICANS IN MEXICAN PERIL

San Diego With Landing Force of Marines Ordered to West Coast Scene of Raiding.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Admiral Winslow, commanding the Pacific fleet, was today ordered from San Francisco to Topolobampo, on the west coast of Mexico, with his flagship, the cruiser San Diego, which will carry 275 additional marines. The latter will be ready to land and protect Americans from raiding Mexicans and Yaqui Indians.

The cruisers Raleigh and New Orleans are nearby and can reach Topolobampo in case of need in less than a day's sail. The San Diego's trip from San Francisco will require about six days.

The gunboat Annapolis is now at Topolobampo.

WHITMAN STARTS TRIP WITH LIBERTY BELL

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 24.—The Liberty Bell, en route from San Francisco to Philadelphia, arrived here at 9 A. M. today and was viewed by an immense throng made up of patriotic and fraternal societies and the children from the public schools.

Gov. Whitman, with Mrs. Whitman and Mrs. E. Menzies Rayner of New York, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, met the relic here and will accompany it on its journey through the State.

The bell, on a flat car, stood on a siding for an hour while the crowd passed in review. The journey to the East was resumed at 10 o'clock, the next stop being at Batavia.

What to Wear and When to Wear It

By Andre Dupont.

WHEN TO WEAR EXTREME STYLES.

EXTREME fashions are never in good taste except on occasions where elaborate dressing is the order of the day or evening. Street suits, every day frocks or any such conventional garments are more suitable and in much better style when made by conservative models. But for the dressy little frock to wear to a smart luncheon, an afternoon card party or "at home" a fashion that is unique, that has some up-to-the-minute touch, that the majority of people have not seen, is, if it is both appropriate and becoming to the wearer, an ideal costume for the woman who has a reputation for fashionable dressing to sustain. And when you come to evening frocks as a rule the more ultra the fashion the smarter the model.

It is rather hard to tell this season what is extreme, for we have such a great variety of designs that the style that in other years would make quite a sensation is now passed by almost unnoticed. Fashion has taken a little of everything from nearly every period of history. There are pointed basques and balloon sleeves, there are wired skirts, and there are also bustles, which are a drapery effect, and not the wire monstrously of the eighties. Some of the more advanced frocks show leg of mutton sleeves and others have collars so high that they are literally chokers. There are big plaids and wide stripes, brocades and tinsel fabrics. You can have almost anything you like if you have the price.

One of the most attractive of the extreme styles is the chiffon frock trimmed with fur that is now considered so smart. A charming example is shown in the illustration. It is made with a full skirt of brown satin drop skirt. The sleeves are of the chiffon, but the bodice is of white velvet, made with the pointed front that is the latest word in style. Bands of Hudson seal trim the skirt and also the sleeves at wrist and just below the elbows. A full ruche of deep rose colored ribbon with a tiny bunch of white rosebuds and a fall of the ribbon forms a standing collar at the sides and back of the neck. Touches of the same ribbon are used on the skirt just below the fur bands.

The other illustration shows a very simple but smart little frock made of wide striped silk in shades of blue and green with a tiny line of red. The full skirt is gathered into the waist with a deep heading. The stripes run up and down on the sleeves and skirt and crosswise on the bodice. A muffler scarf of silver fox makes a fashionable accompaniment to the frock. The hat is of black velvet with black plumes.

Both striped and plaid silk is used in many effective ways for trimmings as well as for entire frocks. It forms the lower part and also the sleeves of smart blouses or trims the waists of the frocks. Chiffon is seen on nearly all the most elaborate afternoon dresses, often in combination with fur. Sometimes a whole skirt will be made of a strip of velvet and a strip of chiffon, with the underskirt of contrasting color showing through the chiffon.

GIRL FOUND IN HOTEL IS VICTIM OF APHASIA

Says She Came From Philadelphia, But Cannot Remember Her Name.

The attention of guests in the McAlpin Hotel was called to a pretty young woman, well dressed, who was wandering around the lobby shortly after midnight. She appeared to be looking for some one.

When House Detective Gonou questioned the woman her answer at once convinced him that she was mentally affected. She was taken to the West Thirtieth Street Police Station where Dr. McChesney of the New York Hospital said she was suffering from aphasia. She was removed to Bellevue Hospital.

The girl could only remember that her name is Mary, that she arrived in New York from Philadelphia Monday, and spent Monday night and yesterday with friends here, and that she was to meet other friends in the Pennsylvania station last night and to return to Philadelphia. She carried a small suit case and had $6 in her purse.

The aphasia victim is 5 feet 3 inches, weighs 125 pounds, has blue eyes and dark brown hair. She wore a long blue tailor made coat, trimmed with fur, a gray woolen sweater, a blue serge skirt, blue waist and a large hat trimmed with satin band and blue feather.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens Gray Hair So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folk are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mossy mistle at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive, besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

BEATEN BY GALE, RYNDAM DODGES FLOATING MINES

Liner Arrives Two Days Late After Braving Perils of War and Weather.

With two lifeboats on her starboard quarter smashed in and her name in electric lights on the starboard side carried away by the northwester which overtook her Nov. 12, the Holland-America liner Ryndam arrived in port this morning, two days late.

She sailed from Rotterdam Nov. 10, and after being held a day at Falmouth and a few hours at the Downs, headed into the open sea at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Nov. 12. At 7 o'clock that evening a northwest gale sprang up, which raged for two days before moderating. Again on the 17th a bad blow overtook the ship, with a following sea that smashed some of the lights at the after end. On that day the sea was so bad the Ryndam made only 100 miles.

Four hundred canaries out of a consignment of 31,000 destined for a local bird and animal dealer succumbed to the rough weather, but twelve monkeys in the same consignment seemed rather exhilarated by it.

Among the best known of the 132 first cabin passengers were Brand Whitlock, American Minister to Belgium; Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, actor, accompanied by his daughter, Iris; Mrs. Julia Culp, Dutch contralto, and her accompanist, Conrad Bos; H. J. and Joseph Duveen, art dealers, and F. B. Elser, Associated Press representative in London.

Shortly after the Ryndam left Rotterdam she passed five floating mines which had torn loose from their anchorage and were tossing about in the North Sea, a menace to every passing vessel. Under the rules of the Berne convention, mines are supposed to be so constructed that they become harmless when they break from their moorings, but so many of them have drifted ashore and exploded when they hit the beach that Capt. P. van den Heuvel gave them a wide berth.

Sir Herbert Tree has come here under a year's contract to play some of his more famous roles before the camera. David Griffith, who staged "The Birth of a Nation," will stage the Tree films, most of which will be taken in or near Los Angeles.

"On my return from California I hope to do some of my Shakespearean roles in New York," said Sir Herbert. Though his hair is snow-white, he has a remarkably fresh, youthful complexion and conveys an impression of vigor and activity. His daughter is a tall, golden-haired girl, with a piquant face and ready smile.

Mrs. Culp, wearing one of her new helmet hats, said she was glad to be here where she could forget for a while the horrors she has seen in Holland and Germany. She has sung in the military hospitals and nursed the wounded. Her concert tour will begin Saturday in Brooklyn.
